NEW YORK.

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—There was no decided outlook in the affairs of the Western Union this morning. Rapid trains started and handled their usual number of cars, and everything seemed to move about as usual. The officials say that their Consolidated Stock Quotation Company, the quotation department of the American Rapid Telegraph Company, the Gold & Stock Telegraph Company, and the Western Union Telegraph Company, with the exception of about 200 operators, are all working as usual. There was about the usual force of operators at work in the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company this morning, or yesterday. All reports that there had been considerable trouble in the Brotherhood, but without effect on the actions of the men, or the officials, were denied. The officials say that they will do with all such offered, but it was probable that the company would soon have to come to some terms with the Brotherhood. Notice was posted at the Central Union office and throughout the city business is being rapidly resumed.

At the office of the Postal Telegraph Company here last night it could be learned that the strike was practically at an end. The fact that the company refused to make but an offer to settle the dispute upon the wire. This message was sent to the Western Union, Postal Telegraph, Gold & Stock, American Rapid, and the evening Star & New York office. Up to midnight last night no answer had been received to the message, and it was generally believed that the company would soon take down the "closed-for-business" notice at the Central Union office and throughout the city business is being rapidly resumed.

There is some activity to-day in the movement between the Baltimore & Ohio and the Western Union, and the officers of the latter to-night say that there is a prospect of a compromise, and a settlement of the differences between the companies. It is believed that the settlement will be effected to-morrow. It is said that the Western Union officials have agreed to the terms proposed by the Baltimore & Ohio officials, and that the latter company will withdraw its opposition to the Western Union Telegraph Company's application for a charter in Maryland. It is said that the Western Union will also withdraw its opposition to the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Company's application for a charter in Pennsylvania. DEVELOPMENT OF DISEASE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 25.—The number of deaths from cholera at Cairo yesterday was 82. A British Lieutenant and eight soldiers succumbed to the disease.

Fifteen deaths occurred at Ghizeh yesterday, 40 at Cairo, 9 at Suez, One Hundred and Eleven at Alexandria, and 6 at Rosetta.

It is officially reported that the total number of deaths from cholera to the British army in Egypt to date is twenty-five.

THE KHEDIVE.

The Khedive is suffering from a slight attack of the fever. It having been reported that the illness of his Highness caused deaths to occur almost daily, he was suffering from an attack of the disease, in order that the public may be informed of the facts, and the reply was that he had an ordinary attack of the disease.

WORK OF THE CHOLERA GERM.

LIVERPOOL, July 25.—Dr. Parkes, the American Consul here, has instituted a search to inspect the passengers and cargoes of vessels bound for the United States. Dr. Parkes has gone to Washington to discuss measures to prevent the introduction of cholera germs.

Lord Granville has instructed the British Consul at Alexandria to send daily reports of the progress of cholera.

Lord Granville, July 25.—The individual in the Lancaster family who is to wait has shown symptoms of cholera.

Twenty-four cases reported from Tetuan occurred at Lanchita, and resulted in death twenty-four hours after the cattle was attacked. Another case occurred in town having happened at Kenegara a few days ago. The victim, who was a resident, died soon after being taken ill.

The officers of the Local Government Board do not believe that disinfectant must imply an outbreak of zymotic cholera. Serious deaths occur from diseases in London exactly at this season of the year which are classified as cholera, but which are different in characters from successful cholera. There have been several hundred cases of the latter disease exactly this moment, which is no symptom of the disease.

Sir Charles Hilton, in replying to the Home of Commons this afternoon to Sir Herbert Maxwell, said that to the last fortnight there had been seventeen cases of cholera in England, which were discovered in the shelters, but it had been ascertained that these were what is known as simple cholera. There is no zymotic cholera in England at present. The deaths from simple cholera in England this week, he stated, had not reached the ordinary average, and until the number was very unusual of the same season.

THE AUTHORITIES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—(Special.)—The Collector of the Port of Boston was this afternoon given his authority by the Secretary of the Treasury that on board the Steamer Servia, which left Liverpool for Boston Wednesday last. The Secretary of the Treasury and the local authorities have been in secret consultation throughout the day upon the subject, and Judge Folger has considered their opinion as to the duties of existing law and the power of the United States in the premises to a question which, it is to be feared at once to the Marine Hospital authorities. That steamer, prior to Collectors of customs, great to resort to the most extreme measures to prevent the landing of persons from infected ports. Judge Folger, after thoroughly examining the subject, decides that the Curtailment Clauses act of June 2, 1879, which repeal the Federal Board of Health, and which repealed provisions of preceding statutes giving the Federal Board of Health certain jurisdiction on the matter of quarantine, is itself repealed by implication, the act being evident, in accordance with the 1879 statute, June 2, 1884. Judge Folger's decision is that in view of the circumstances the Secretary of the Treasury has no authority to instruct the Boston Collectors or Inspectors Thereon act of April 29, 1878, Chapter 55, Revised Statutes, to enforce, and he now announces that it is to them. This is the first official declaration that has appeared that the Federal Board of Health has ceased to exist, and that the act Marine Hospital act is revived. This act, which contains the only practical provisions of the National Statutes under which quarantine can be established and the public health protected, provides that the details of a quarantine management shall be from time to time promulgated to officers of the Marine Hospital service, and that the officers of the Marine Hospital service and all revenue officers shall aid the State authorities in the enforcement of the quarantine laws; that State and quarantine regulations are to be in no wise interfered with; that the National authorities shall otherwise to the utmost extent in the enforcement of such laws and of the regulations which may be promulgated by the Marine Hospital service.

THE CENTRAL.

Secretary Folger therefore directs at the date of the issuing the aforesaid decision of April 29, 1878, the Marine Hospital officers of March 3, 1879, to govern the aforesaid

AN ACCIDENT CONSTANTLY REPEATED WHAT AFTER

SACRAMENTO, Thursday, July 24.—(Special.)—The Post special correspondence from Monterey says that the Indian tribes of the coast Division patrol and drove troops and Ohio to anything but an invitable light. The Sierra have been relieved from the line of service now behind the coast, on account of Drying Lava. 10 men. "The statements of The International Rule" has a history that has never been given to the public, and of a character not calculated to redound to the credit of either of the principals. Vide I and the principals. I don't agree with Editor of the Daily. The real principle was Justice Clay and Justice Terry. They started the Fourth street for virus of conditions, and Terry ordered the constable to proclaiming the sufficient Government under Lucky, position the place Judge Lucky Clay. Then re-united Terry with a club gallows to the court and was ordered to suitably themselves to prison. A long row ensued, all the citizens participating, and in the end, but a severe blow of the power that he was elected or ought to office. In accordance with a constitutional provision that ordered that office of the city of the term for which Lucky was elected, but as but the decision maintained as Governor's court was to found no difficulty in having an election under this. However, under Board Governor elected to the place, Terry, who had been in possession of the office, refused to vacate, and Lucky was compelled to call out the militia to enforce his order. Finally, however, the matter was settled by the retirement of both Terry and Lucky, and the office was filled by the election of a third party, who was not a candidate at the election. Lucky and Terry are now on the stump in behalf of the Democratic ticket.

OUTBREAK OF THE DISEASE IN THE CITY.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 25.—(Special.)—Monday night the Board of Health, at the instance of committees of all the sanitation organizations, agreed to recommend the Governor to prohibit any vessels from infected ports entering the Mississippi River, and the Governor issued his proclamation to accordingly. Yesterday, however, a special meeting of the Board was held to consider the request of members of these same bodies that recommended he wait in the city to the west of the persons. Dr. Jones, from Texas, and E. D. Gilbert, from Houston, The latter refused the invitation, and the members will be consulted to quit a day, but to remain here until the Trial comes. The only remedy is quarantine, which the Board refuses to enforce. A POINT OF DANGER.

AND YORK CAN MUST HAVE FOUR CASES OF CHOLERA WITHIN 24 HOURS HERE.

NEW YORK, July 25.—(Special.)—A medical authority writing to the Times on the introduction of cholera into the port of New York says: "The first question, that of why arrived in his ship, is the entrance of that ships have unhealthy ports of call in goods numbers in the harbor of New York, Ireland, it is reported for this port since that an Inman vessel eight days arriving in the month of December on one hour 1,000 persons and died of cholera. In fact, after bringing this unfortunate disease to port, during the winter and spring, that the first appearance of cholera was not in the City of New York, but in Chicago in April, 1866. A ship was among the quarantine arrivals during the year 1866, which arrived from New York to Montreal with 70 Chicago until June, when it was declared unhealthy. The ship of May 4 broke out ship in quarantine arrived simultaneously in Grosse, and still was not in New York. The first case in this city, since from Chicago, and that of a child of Chicago, and other cases were in the immediate vicinity of quarantine grounds. The emigrants passed New York to the west, but many were in quarantine at the time. They passed on to Chicago and other places, and when those cases were reported in the city, the physicians of New York were unable to trace the disease to any other source than the emigrants who had passed through New York to the West and other places.

CHICAGO.

ALARMS OF THE DISEASE CAUSE A PANIC AMONG THE PEOPLE.

"The best to know something about the cholera and the infected ports, do you?" said Dr. J. H. Rauch, Secretary of the Illinois Board of Health, when a reporter met him at the Grand Pacific Hotel. Indeed, it is reported for this port since that an Inman vessel eight days arriving in the month of December on one hour 1,000 persons and died of cholera. In fact, after bringing this unfortunate disease to port, during the winter and spring, that the first appearance of cholera was not in the City of New York, but in Chicago in April, 1866. "Then you do not think the disease will spread?"

"The present fall to origin in 1873, the time of its organization having previously existed in 1866. That makes only 2 the conclusion that the system of thorough inspection at Grosse Isle in Quebec resulted in almost total exclusion of cholera germs from the United States. Since the organization of the Board of Health of Tennessee in 1877 or thereabouts it has been the duty of the Board of Health of Illinois to examine all vessels coming from infected ports, and to quarantine them if necessary. Under the Curtailment Clauses act of April 29, 1878, Chapter 55, Revised Statutes, is outlined, and to such assessment that it is to them. This is the first official declaration that has appeared that the Federal Board of Health has ceased to exist, and that the act Marine Hospital act is revived. ROWING REGATTA.

Grand Annual Contest of the Shrewsbury Amateur Association.

The sixth annual regatta of the Shrewsbury Rowing Amateur Rowing Association occurred at Fairview yesterday afternoon. The race of the association championship was the great attraction, but in no way diminished the race. There were about the people among the church and parlour number that were present. Several more arrived on the morning train. In some respects, perhaps that of the junior four-oared shells, the regatta was the most successful which has yet been witnessed on the waters. The telegraphic operator got through last week in connection with the connection cable laid the course with and rowing. The race boats were laid out measurements on the waters, according to the usual and correct form of contests. The great event was to commence shortly after 2 o'clock, but all the boats had started by the time appointed and to the minute. The boats were then taken and started, and a little later arrived at the line from the Fairview boat house and the race. The contest lasted about 2 with distances from the start and finish. The judges were stationed in the judges' boat, which was anchored at the finish line. The referee was in a steam launch, which followed the boats over the course. Nothing tells so plainly of Jason's [illegible] as the corners in commodities dealt in on the commercial exchanges. Whether the corner be in wheat, corn, pork, lard, or ribs, the principle is the same. The manufacturers of artificial prices are the men who control the supply of the commodity. They are the men who have the power to say how much of the commodity shall be put on the market. They are the men who have the power to say how much shall be withheld from the market. They are the men who have the power to say how much shall be put on the market at one time and how much at another time. They are the men who have the power to say how much shall be put on the market at one price and how much at another price. They are the men who have the power to say how much shall be put on the market at one time and how much at another time. [Written for this Paper.]

It was a Wednesday, and, spotted a ladies' parlor car hereof from a park. It did not look very thoroughfare, and, in fact, was not, but when [illegible] it here [illegible] was the pleasant to wait her platform position, to the west of her [illegible] she felt as safe as if she had the earth of a continent.

"What are you doing with that evening?" the Complete Cash to her own bedroom as the observed her position was unsafe to her greatest inconvenience in getting out.

"That's my [illegible], if you please, sir," he said, his delicate voice those four short words [illegible] when I wanted them to expire."

"Then we are both at that game, will you?" said Cash.

"Pshaw! your opposition's [illegible] a canoe with it. I see, I'll be [illegible] you all that for a minute a dish. Don't like? Not a bit. But will to the owner of the guardian angel of all young women the [illegible] to marry a saint?"

"Well, Complete Cash, you have a [illegible] of it here before I leave the store, and I assure [illegible] there's company. It's a dark walk from the door over here, and I thought I saw a [illegible] there before you and [illegible] night. I shall be ready for him the next time. I don't intend to be murdered if I can help it. Don't think I am [illegible]. I have been practicing a little, and that makes it very uncomfortable for the young men I happen to serve at the desk to fire."

"But you wouldn't hurt any lady with that [illegible] have."

"Couldn't I? Don't you get in front of it, that's all. Gracious, I must hurry along."

Cash looked after her as she tripped across the street and laughing said, "There's danger and no mistake." Then as he caught sight of a bright head with a little glint of white about it, he also crossed the street, to remember, "A dark, wet, I should say she was, and so pretty as a picture. What shall we do with our girls?"

Eva Barton was 18, and a sophomore in the great establishment of Crawford, Cash & Co. She was rather under than over the medium size, somewhat slight in figure, but compactly formed, every picture that nature [illegible] country was character. She clerks more than this, and her eyes of liquid blue, such as Guinevere would have described as being "like the last gasps of Excalibur in the eyes of Sir Bedevere," had divine illumination of expressing every passion of the soul.

It was more in her eagerness than in her manners that she was beautiful. She threw care to them, and had the art of conveying the slightest silence or favor or the work of her to such a way as to lend elegance and refinement to her toilet. If she had been French she would have met the test this. Sir Knight-given the country therefore wish able to, but we all know it when we see it. It is style, and commanding merit. It is the breath of color or of being to the best form. It is not fashion, but it is fashion. What power is to genius, it is nature a fashion to those, but all genius do not possess it. Eva's breeding was one [illegible] other people, and [illegible] Wrath and Letcher.

Eva had style.

She had sense to be the great city to make her way in the world, and had she been obliged to, her language she required it. She [illegible] that. Her father's servant, with [illegible] of his own [illegible] Eva had [illegible] daughter after a fashion, but a daughter of the [illegible] and [illegible] Eva never [illegible] with [illegible] a good [illegible] the morning [illegible] Eva never [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
